Shannon Named First Lay President of SJC

Dr. Albert Shannon, vice president for academic affairs at Saint Joseph's College, has been selected as the 15th president of the College effective July 1, 1993.

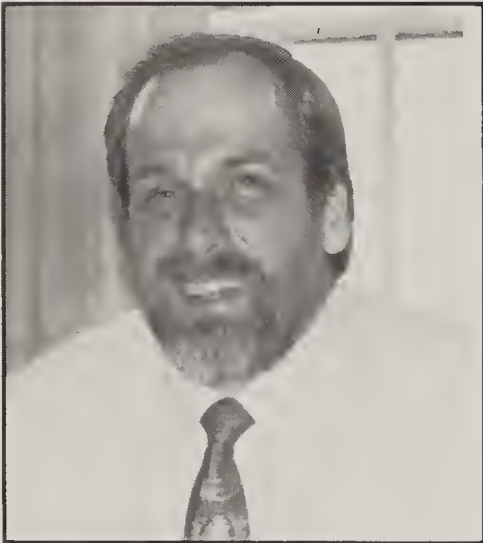

He becomes the first lay president in College history, succeeding Father Charles Banet, C.P.P.S., '50, who held the position for 28 years.

Shannon came to Saint Joseph's last August from Saint Joseph's University in Philadelphia, where he served as graduate division director/chair from 1986-1992.

A native of Pittsburgh, he has a B.A. degree, Summa Cum Laude and Phi Beta Kappa, in English and Classics from Marquette University, and a master's degree from Boston University. He received a Ph.D. in curriculum and administration from Marquette in 1978.

Shannon says he will seek to maintain the excellence of the academic division of the College; continue the commitment to sound fiscal policy; continue to hold the students as the top priority of the College; lead the faculty in their stewardship of their academic programs; work closely with the Society of the Precious Blood and look to the principal of reciprocal influence as one of his guiding principals.

Shannon, wife M.J., and son Sean, 17, reside in Rensselaer. Their daughter, Erica, 20, is a sophomore at Mount Saint Mary's College in Maryland.

Dear Alumni,

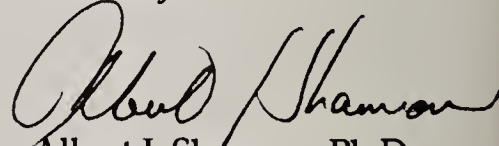

I do not need to tell you what an exciting place your alma mater is!! As alumni of the College, you represent the largest constituency of all of the College families. You are the living memory of the institution and one of the driving forces in its progress towards the year 2000. I know that I will continue to learn about your particular years as Pumas when we meet - in the meanwhile, I promise stewardship for all that you hold important at Saint Joseph's.

Allow me to reassure all of you of the openness of your campus on any return visit that you might make. I insist that you stop in my office to introduce yourself, your spouse and children. I also invite you to take advantage of any home sporting event to drop in to campus. I know many of you will take advantage of the Family Fun Weekend planned for this summer, and a few of you will help us maintain the beer and brat tent tradition at Homecoming... I look forward to it all.

Each of you has taken a piece of SJC away at graduation - bring it back bit by bit and teach me the whole story over the next few years. I look forward to meeting all of you.

Sincerely,

Albert J. Shannon, Ph.D.
President-Elect

Carol Burns Hired As College Registrar

Carol Burns was hired January 1 as registrar for the College. She served as assistant registrar from January, 1992 to January, 1993.

After receiving her associates degree at Ivy Tech, Lafayette, Ind. in 1984, she came to Saint Joseph's and worked in the Computer Center as a computer programmer/systems analyst.

Carol received her B.S. degree in computer science in 1990 from Saint Joseph's, graduating Cumma Sum Laude.

"I want to improve the communications between this office and students. An example is the new advising by computer form (ABC) which informs the student of his/her progress towards fulfilling graduation requirements." Carol states.

The ABC form shows the courses that the student has taken, and those in progress broken down by major, minor, Core and electives. Remaining requirements that still need to be met are also listed.

"Other projects will include utilizing the full capabilities of computer programs to enhance the working of the Registrars Office," she adds.

Carol replaces Ed Habrowski, who remains at SJC as chairman and an associate professor of the Education Department.

Carol resides in Rensselaer with her two sons, Roger, 14, and Allan, 11.

Three Participate in Executive In Residence Program

The Executive In Residence program was established to give Saint Joseph's students an insight into the business and professional world through the eyes of outstanding leaders in business, industry and the professions. Three outstanding leaders participated in the program recently.

Tracey Carruthers, NBC Midwest Bureau Chief, visited SJC in conjunction with Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, January 18. She spoke to communications and theatre arts students emphasizing to the students the qualities she considered important to success in life and life's work. She was also the keynote speaker at a panel discussion and banquet in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day. She talked about the diversification of the Civil Rights Movement since the death of King in 1968.

John Goeken, founder of industries such as MCI, FTD Mercury Network and Airfone Corporation, was on campus January 20 to share his experiences with Saint Joe students. He urged students to believe in themselves and their dreams; to find a way to get things done, persevere, and success will follow.

Peter Shen '63, president of Electronic Ballasts Technologies, Inc., spoke April 15 to various marketing, business and finance classes from a personal perspective sharing with students the fact that building a company was a long and sometimes painful process. He lost over a million dollars the first few years but saw the growth potential for a product that could better utilize energy resources while providing a better fluorescent light. He never lost faith and after several years his efforts began to bear fruit. He built the company into one of the industry's largest. Shen, a member of the SJC Board of Trustees, recently gave the College $500,000, one of the largest gifts ever to the College.

Phonathon 1993

The annual phonathon held March 21-25 raised in pledges over $90,000. In view of the fact that SJC is in the middle of a campaign, we feel gratified about this additional show of support from our alumni.

As always, the student volunteers deserve special recognition. They are willing to lift themselves out of their comfort zone to do something quite different, that is, call a stranger and ask for institutional support. Thank you for being kind to them.

The money raised is designated to Annual Funds which help defray the operating costs of the college. We thank all those who participated either as volunteers or as supporters in this 5-day event.

Admissions Office Thanks Alumni for Recruitment Efforts

The Office of Admissions would like to thank the many alumni who have been so helpful in our recruitment efforts. Throughout the 1992-93 school year, alumni have been actively involved in some of our larger projects — attending college fairs, letter writing campaigns, and a phone campaign.

The campus community of Saint Joseph's College appreciates all of your efforts!

SJC Receives Two New Buses

New Bus

Ron Geleott, assistant vice president for facilities and planning, reports that SJC has received two new buses from John Benish, president, Cook Illinois Corp., Oak Forest, Ill. and trustee of SJC.

They are 25-passenger and will be used for all events —athletics, clubs, etc. These replace two buses used by the College during the past four years.

Ron says, "They should be put to good use. The color scheme is red and white, with a little yellow stripe. The lettering on the front spells Pumas, the side SJC and back luggage door Rensselaer, Ind.

"These should give a nice comfortable ride." Ron concludes.

WOMEN AT SAINT JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

The role of women in the history of Saint Joseph's College began with Mother Katharine Drexel of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament. She, as a lay person and wealthy heiress, paid for the erection of the buildings and for the land in 1888 to establish the Saint Joseph's Indian Normal School, which in 1891 was chartered Saint Joseph's College. She entered a convent in 1889 and was beatified in Rome, November 20, 1988.

The first women on campus were Precious Blood Sisters, who arrived in the summer of 1891 to do kitchen and laundry services for the students. In 1950, their status changed and several of the Sisters served on the faculty from 1956 to 1961. When plans to build a women's college nearby were dropped, the teaching Sisters left.

The first lay woman to participate in a campus activity occurred in the winter of 1938 when Miss Pauline Tonner, daughter of Professor Paul Tonner, was permitted to sing several numbers with the college's orchestra in the spring concert. Things were so strict, however, that she was not allowed to appear on stage, but had to sing from back stage, where she could not be seen.

The acceptance of women on campus began to grow more rapidly thereafter and on February 21, 1939, girls from the Rensselaer community were allowed to participate in a college play. In 1947, Ceil Conley was hired as the bookstore manager.

The summer school session in 1948 was memorable for the fact that women, eleven Sisters of various Orders, were admitted as students for the first time. Their attendance would be a regular feature of many summer sessions to come.

In the second semester of 1951-52, Mary Lou Worland became the first female to enroll for classes during a regular school term. The first lay woman graduate was Nancy J. (Dye) Beck in 1960.

In 1956, two Sisters of the Precious Blood and Dr. Emily Chen became the first women on the faculty for the regular school year, though other Sisters had taught in summer school. Also in 1956, Nell Harris became the first female director of the Health Center.

The opening of school in the fall of 1968 marked the appearance of women residents for the first time. Eighty women occupied the east wing of newly completed Justin Hall. The college hired Nona S. Noel as Assistant Dean of Women and the popular Mrs. Elizabeth Dunn, who served as the first House Mother until 1984.

In 1976, Deborah Frantz, a math-computer major, was the first female to be elected Student Association president.

Today, women play a significant role in the life of Saint Joseph's College. Approximately 2200 women have attended SJC for four or more semesters with 1600 graduating. As students, they comprise more than half the student body, are deeply involved in student government, class offices and other leadership positions, and participate in eight NCAA Division II varsity sports. Out of 235 college employees, 127 are women; 20 faculty members and 107 administrative and support staff. Six women serve on the Board of Trustees.

Poster Available

In celebration of the Year of the Woman marking 25 years of women in residence at SJC, Louisa Monfort, acting chairman of the art department, has created a 16" x 24" poster that is striking for its design in vivid pinks and reds, the colors of life.

While an imaginative and beautiful decorative work, the symbolism inherent depicts less the concept of "womanhood" than it does the idea of archetypal, primordial WOMAN, emitter of energy, life-force, symbol of eternal earth, death and regeneration. Thus, design cannot be separated from content for they are irrevocably allied.

For anyone interested in its purchase, please send $15.00 to Saint Joseph's College, Office of Development, Box 870, Rensselaer, IN 47978 or call 219: 866-6173.

The proceeds will help defray expenses for the activities planned throughout 1993 calling attention to SJC's 25 years as a residential, co-educational institution.

Louisa Monfort was introduced and applauded for her work in creating the poster for the year-long celebration.

Klemme named recipient of NCAA Walter J. Byers Postgraduate Scholarship

Sheryl Klemme, senior psychology major from Fowler, Ind., has been named the 1993 female recipient of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Walter J. Byers Postgraduate Scholarship. She becomes the first Division II student-athlete to win the award in its five-year history.

The $10,000 annual stipend is named after the long-time executive director of the NCAA.

The award encourages excellence in academic performance by student-athletes and is awarded in recognition of outstanding academic achievement and potential for success in postgraduate study.

Sheryl spent her freshman year at Western Illinois University where she achieved a perfect 4.0 grade point average and has maintained that in her three years at SJC.

She has been involved in other activities, such as student government, where she just completed a term as vice president of the Student Association. Also, she was an outstanding member of SJC's basketball team and was a three-time member of the Great Lakes Valley Conference All-Academic Team. Excelling in many areas, Sheryl was recently chosen the 1993 Little 500 Queen and was the National Winner of the 1991 Moses Leo Gitelson Essay Contest.

Sheryl's essay, "The Bill of Rights: Different But Unchanged," was awarded first place in the nation-wide contest sponsored by the Center for the Study of the Presidency.

She served as Fellow at the Center for the study of the Presidency in New York and Dr. Gordon Hoxie, the long-time President of the Center, described Sheryl as "one of the very best the Center has ever had."

"Despite all the academic and athletic accolades that have come her way, Sheryl remains a very down to earth person," says Dave Osterfeld '71, professor of political science at Saint Joseph's.

"She never feels she is too good for any job," continues Dave. "For Sheryl, honest work, whatever it is, deserves respect."

The $10,000 scholarship is renewable for a second year provided evidence of satisfactory performance and progress is made during Sheryl's first year of postgraduate work. She plans to attend law school at either Notre Dame or Indiana University.

Dearest Friends,

Thank you for your lovely card with all your messages. It gave me a grand feeling to be remembered by all of you. I'm paralyzed on my right side so my favorite son Dennis '67 is writing this for me. He's really a wonderful son.

My hand doesn't work very well but my mouth does! I'm living in a nice facility in the rolling hills of Wisconsin and am very happy here. Thanks again and remember me in your prayers.

Chicago

It was a cold, 19 degrees on Wednesday, March 17 and the coldest St. Patrick's Day recorded when some 25 alumni and their families stood on Wacker Drive in Chicago waiting for the parade to begin. Finally, and after short moves to Deerborn Street, the Saint Joseph's group was ready to be led by organizer Joe Dillon '76 proudly down the street. The temperature had warmed to 22 degrees. The SJC/ St. Patrick's hats were provided by Jim Riley '70 of Riley's Novelty Store. Carrying the SJC banner were Mike Vallone '60 and John Carey '60. Other alumni joining in the march were Jane Ames '73, Terry Boyle '69, Colleen '81 and Charles '79 Dillon, Bob Neville '71, Tom O'Brien '69, Ted Scudder '75 and Richard Wagner '68. Because the SJC band could not march this year (conflict with classes), the WCKG Radio, 105.9 FM remote truck was enlisted to provide backup music.

Warm hearted alumni welcomed the frozen marchers to Binyon's with special thanks to Glenn Dee for making us feel at home. The afternoon was spent enjoying spirits, food and the good company of alumni.

——Fort Wayne——

A pre-game alumni gathering was held in Fort Wayne on Thursday, February 25, 1993, prior to the Puma vs. IUPU-Fort Wayne game. The event was organized by Mike Kitch '88. Mike reports that 31 alumni, families and friends dropped by before going to the game. He was pleased to see so many alumni there and at the game. The Puma signed basketball was won by Matt Krueger '92. Fort Wayne alumni should watch your mail for a summer event with newly installed President Shannon and his wife M.J. attending.

——Indianapolis——

Prior to the Thursday night game of Puma vs. University of Indianapolis, Indianapolis alumni met for a pre-game party. Former parents Rosella Hagist and Dolores Stewart told stories of what SJC was like in the late sixties and early seventies. J.J. Pendick '92 and Stacey Rendel '92 listened attentively to what happened then. Bill Taylor '51 had stories from the early 50's and Steve Sergi '85 and newly elected SJC Board of Trustee member Ann O'Hara '85 let it be known that the 80's had fun too. Therese Cangany '79 maintained that the 70's were equally good. Stacey Rendel '92 won the Puma signed basketball.

Others attending were: Rob Cockrum, Jim and Nancy Cangany, Brian Eckstein and Cebie Smith.

——Lewis——

The season of pre and post basketball alumni gatherings started following the February 6, 1993, Pumas vs. Lewis University game. This was our first gathering following a Lewis game in a few years. A good turnout of South Chicago alumni, their families and friends said "you have been away too long." Those attending the gathering were: Mike Vallone '60, Steve Ligda '62 and wife Winnie and son Mark, Kathy and Bob '69 Legatzke, Carol and Tom '69 Novak, Phyllis and Bill '69 Phelan, Larry Soltis '69, Jane Ames '73 and Jack Sensenbrenner, David Owens '75, Cindy and Bruce '87 Mathew, current students DeLea Johnson '93, DeLaina Wilks '94, Eileen Wooda '95, and from the College John Barrientos '51, Fred Berger and Musa Pinar.

Phyllis Phelan, wife of Bill Phelan '69, won the Puma signed basketball.

Larry Soltis '69 is pushing for a group of SJC alumni to march in the 1994 South Chicago St. Patrick's Day Parade. Any early response? The Chicago Chapter and the alumni association are interested in working with any area alumni to have another event. If you would like to help, call Cebie Smith, director of alumni relations, SJC, 219: 866-6123.

——Rensselaer——

The Alumni Office hosted a reception for Rensselaer, Lafayette and area alumni following the Pumas vs. University of Indianapolis basketball game on February 20, 1993.

During the game, snow and sleet started, but that did not deter some 50 alumni and SJC staff and 30 guests and families from remaining to see and greet each other. The oldest class was represented by Warren Gray '43 with wife Jeane. The graduating class was represented by Lisa Baciou '93.

Lisa's parents, Julie and Emil, also attended. Future graduates included Emily Coleman '96 and Tanya Popiela '96, and Judy and Gerald Popiela. SJC alumni/staff included coaches Linda Deno '82, Gerry Potacki '83, and Bill Reagan '74, with wife, Liz '73 and sons, Kevin and Patrick, Professor Susan Chattin '85 with husband and professor, David, along with their four children, Bruce Mathew '87 and wife Cindy, and Professor Dave Owens '75. The head of the stone statue of Saint Joseph that graced the niche in the south tower of the Administration Building from August 18, 1892, until the building was destroyed by fire February 4, 1973, is being displayed in the lobby of McHale.

After finding all the parts, it was sent by Father Banet to Rigali Studios in Arlington Heights, Ill., and Robert Rigali, Jr., a '81 SJC graduate, restored it.

It was made in Germany and presented to the College by Father August Young of Garrett, Ind.

The statue, which had been constructed in a series of slabs, disintegrated when the attempt was made to remove it from the niche following the fire.

Twin Towers

From lofty heights, your majestic eyes,
In Romanesque style,
Sublimely sweep the surrounding countryside,
And solemnly behold the beauty around.

For more than four-score decades,
Within your massive, pillared sanctuary,
Many souls sought solace and strength,
And left, spiritually renewed and contented.

In nineteen seventy-three, as silent sentinels,
You wept tearlessly
As billowing smoke enshrouded you
While fire consumed the adjoining nerve center.

Yet, out of the smoke and ashes
Loomed your towering presence -
A comforting, permanent reminder
Of Father Seifert's dream fulfilled -
The crown jewel of Saint Joseph's College campus.

Gifts With Special Meaning

Often, families prefer, instead of flowers, to establish a memorial in the name of a deceased family member or friend.

Such memorial gifts should be sent to Saint Joseph's College, Box 870, Rensselaer, IN 47978. The donor will be acknowledged and the family notified.

If the memorial is substantial, the family may wish to consult with a college official in the office of Development as to the best use of the money to befit a lasting memorial.

Gifts may also be made in honor of someone or to celebrate an occasion. A birthday present, for example, for one who has everything might be a named gift of $50 to the library to purchase books.
